

COURSE: SPAN 204 INTERMEDIATE SPANISH II

COURSE OBJECTIVES

The main objective of this course is for students to develop their communicative abilities through the practice of different linguistic skills in an integrated manner. Thus, the general goal is for students to progress and improve their comprehension and use of both oral and written Spanish.

Likewise, the course aims to initiate students in different aspects of Spanish sociocultural reality, not only in an informative manner or as knowledge, but with a view to appreciating the influence that this factor exerts in the comprehension and language production appropriate to the sociocultural context of communication.

STRUCTURE

In order to aid students in achieving the goals of this course, we will take a communicative, active approach, through activities that allow them to practice the language they are learning. In class and on field trips, students must use only Spanish, in accordance with CCCS's sólo en español policy.

Following the sequence of the textbook, activities both in and out of class will be oriented toward:

- Grasping and analyzing the information presented in both written and spoken sources by reading texts in different formats and watching videos, as well as making lists, questionnaires, surveys, etc.
- Interaction and enhancement of spoken and written expression by writing messages letters and compositions; preparing oral presentations, maintaining conversations and debates, commenting, analyzing and contrasting images, participating in games, responding to questionnaires, creating ads and posters; and creating and acting out situational dialogues and skits.
- Reflection on the Spanish linguistic system by reading texts, listening to audios and viewing movies and videos, controlled oral and written activities to practice grammar, concept maps and lexical associations in order to broaden and reinforce vocabulary; and pronunciation exercises.
- Learning about the cultural component by reading texts in different formats, viewing images and TV programs and listening to audio files, songs and poems; visits to cultural sites.
- Activation of learning and communication strategies.

Throughout the course, the instructor will plan and organize the work, guiding, observing, supporting and informing students in their learning process while modeling the information conveyed.

Classwork will be carried out individually, in pairs and in groups, through meaningful activities. In this sense, though we will follow the sequence of the textbook in the introduction of the topics, we will also take a flexible approach, focusing on topics of special interest to the group as a whole, as a way of fostering students' motivation and involvement in the learning process.

We will practice in an integrated manner the skills of language reception and production (oral and written communication, oral comprehension, reading comprehension, oral expression, written expression).

In order to develop written expression, in addition to texts written during class, students must complete two compositions following the guidelines established in CCCS's Writing Program. These assignments will be detailed in the coursebook. Compositions should be 200-250 words long. These are the steps for completing the composition:

- Contextualization, presentation and analysis of the linguistic model.
- Outline and development of the first draft.
- Handing in the first draft.
- Self-correction using symbols.
- Revision and final version

Students must attend mandatory activities specified in the syllabus. If they do not attend, their participation grade will suffer.

Mandatory cultural field trips: Alcazar, Cathedral, Italica.
