

Give your career a boost with this professional development program for Spanish teachers in Spain

Experienced language teachers will send you home with practical approaches to use in your classroom.

Spanish Studies Abroad, in partnership with the Universidad de Alicante, offers a unique, skills-building seminar for US Spanish teachers. Alicante provides a beautiful, Mediterranean backdrop to this professional development program. Participants will have 4 classroom hours (9am - 1:30 PM, Monday - Friday) per day followed by memorable cultural activities in the afternoon. A team of experienced teachers from the university's Centro Superior de Idiomas will provide the in-class content.

5 modules are included

- Technology in the Classroom
- Culture in the Classroom
- Boosting Oral Skills
- Presenting Grammar in a Fun Way
- Developing Reading Skills

Dates: July 7 (arrival) to July 16, 2023 (departure)

Location: Alicante, Spain / Universidad de Alicante

Housing: Homestays, student residence or independent

Inclusions: Airport pick-ups, housing, city tour, day trip to Valencia, cooking workshop, visit to winery, beach trip, and more.
